DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 4-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is again rejected as being indefinite because the scope of the phrase "rough flavor components" is unknown. Applicants respond by stating that the phrase is similar to the phrase "powdery component" and this, in turn, refers to a component that is removed to improve the products flavor. This phrase is also considered indefinite and therefore the rejection is maintained.

Claim 20 is indefinite because the scope of the phrase "degree of bitterness" is unknown.

Claims 10 and 12 contain multiple trademark/trade names. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe absorbents and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4-9, 11, and 13-20 are anticipated rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Barker et al. (CA Pat. No. 2,052,435) ("Barker").

Barker teaches the treatment of a brewery beverage, e.g., wort, to remove undesirable aldehydes, i.e., carbonyls, and stale flavors, using a solid non-ionic polystyrene adsorbent. (Page 11, first ¶). With regard to removing the organic acid of claim 6, because the prior art process is the same as that claimed, the prior art process will inherently remove organic acids. As to the process for producing the malt beverage (see claim 7), i.e., beer, these steps are inherently the steps used by the industry to produce beer. It is noted that applicants state in their specification, pages 10-13, that the claimed steps are those inherently known in the art.

Barker teaches using non-ionic polystyrene resin such as AMBERLITE XAD-4 and XAD-14, which appear to be synthetic aromatic absorbents. (See page 15). Lastly, applicants claim the removal of various compounds, and again, in view of the fact that the claimed process is the same as that disclosed by the prior art, the claims directed to the removal of various compounds are inherently anticipated.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
